Knowledge-First has a combination of in-person and online courses. This unique blend of educational platforms allows Knowledge-First to provide educational services to students who wish to either attend University and/or acquire Vocational Training. We specialize in preparing today's learners to exceed today's educational demands and the systemic challenges of tomorrow.

Knowledge-First has been developed to augment the reasoning capability and maximize the unique potential of all learners. Our students are taught to engage and contribute in higher level thinking activities as we fashion our academic and enrichment components to inspire critical and diverse thinking. Furthermore, understanding that education not only addresses the intellectual capacities, we also develop character, healthy lifestyles and proficiencies that lead to life-long resiliency. Knowledge-First inspires learners to value the educational environment, themselves and the contributions of others.

We believe, as did Plato, that the purpose and ultimate value of education is not to stick thoughts into the pupils' head, but to inspire them to think for themselves and develop self-sufficiency.
